Dean's Message

Happy December!

The time is here – all your hard work practicing is finally getting ready to pay off! If your calendar looks anything like mine, you have more days playing for events and recitals and cantatas than you do at home. Make sure to make time for yourself this Christmas season to relax and enjoy the holidays. My favorite thing to do is to go to the late Christmas Eve service at Christ Church Cathedral. I hope you find your own thing to help you appreciate this special time.

This month, we will be having our fourth annual Christmas Pipes recital at Central Baptist Church at 2:00, Sunday, December 9, and will feature Larry Sharp, Mark DeAlba, Anna Pan, Bill Webber, Grant Holcomb, and myself. Afterward, we will have a lovely reception hosted by Angela Hurley and Nancy Dunn. All donations received will go toward our Pedals, Pipes, and Pizza program in February, so invite your churches and friends! I hope you will be able to join us.

Finally, mark on your calendars our "Twelfth Night" Party, hosted by Larry Sharp at his home in Winchester on January 5. It will be a nice evening to socialize and relax after a busy holiday season.

Thank you for everything you do throughout the year for the AGO, as well as music as a whole in your communities. I hope you have a blessed Christmas.

James

November Event Report

On Saturday, November 10, eight members of the AGO gathered at Crestwood Christian with host Jane Johnson for a morning of fun and learning with Patty Saunders, local handbell expert and director of the Alluring Community Bell Choir. Breakfast was provided by Angela Hurley and Mike and Nancy Dunn, and was delightful as always.

Following a bit of socializing, we began with telling about our handbell experience – some were directors of their church bell choir, others played in them. Some of us had no handbell experience at all! Patty did an excellent job of instructing how to ring the bells, showing different ringing techniques, and offering ways to incorporate handbells into worship services. She brought along a “bell tree”, which is a stand that holds whole octaves of bells so that one person can play them all with mallets.

We ended the day by playing a game with two teams where each person on the team had to ring a whole octave of bells as quickly and as accurately as they could. Several members went to Ramsey’s for lunch after the workshop. Overall everyone had a fun time and was able to take away something useful for their church bell choir.

Members have fun at the November meeting playing a team game to see who could play handbell octaves the fastest

Chapter News

Coming Soon!

As mentioned in the Dean's Letter, our December program will take place at Central Baptist Church, Sunday, December 9 at 2:00pm. This is a free event open to the community, so invite anyone and everyone you can! A flyer was sent out by email a couple of weeks ago so you could advertise it to your church. Another idea to advertise would be to have it in your bulletin or Sunday morning announcements.

We are still preparing a mailing list for the Pedals, Pipes, and Pizza Program to send information out to potential attendees. If you teach piano lessons to middle or high school students, or know someone that does, please send their information to James Humlong soon! Mailings will go out toward the end of December. We need your help to make this event a success and introduce the organ to the next generation of potential organists!

Don't forget to think about heading to Grand Rapids to the 2019 Regional Convention. In addition to almost a dozen organ recitals and concerts, they will feature handbells, brass, carillon, and the theatre organ. There will also be some familiar faces to the Lexington Chapter, including recitals by Nicole Keller, Katelyn Emerson, and Ken Cowen. You can find more information on their website at grago2019.org.

Music Available from Composer John Dixon

Many of you will recall last November's program led by composer John S. Dixon of Virginia Beach, VA. John has recently sent our chapter several copies of his original organ composition, "Solemn Melody." This piece was distributed in the registration bags for attendees at last summer's AGO National Convention in Kansas City. Advance copies were presented to all LexAGO members who attended last May's Chapter Luncheon and Officer Installation at Dudley's Restaurant.

Anyone wishing to obtain a copy should contact Larry Sharp.

John's goal is to share his music in person in all fifty states. The Lexington Chapter is proud to have been John's first stop on this journey! You may email John directly at JohnSDixon@aol.com if you would like to be placed on his mailing list. You may also request free pdf files of selected sheet music. Visit his website for additional information and updates.

John has been a good friend to our chapter, and we extend our best wishes for his continued success! His newest SATB choral composition, "Three Celtic Blessings," will soon be available through The Sacred Music Press, Lorenz Corporation, Dayton, OH.

Another opportunity for free music is from Phil Clark, whose wife was the longtime organist at First Alliance Church in Lexington before her passing. He has hundreds of good church music books he is looking to rehome for someone to put to good use. For a list of music, please contact James Humlong, or you can contact Phil directly to see the music yourself or ask any questions. His email is pdc3393@twc.com and his phone number is (859)223-7627. Don't miss this great opportunity!
